

EXIMI⁺US

Mapping Exposure-Induced Immune Effects: Connecting the Exposome and the Immunome

Developing a new way of assessing the environmental exposures throughout an individual's life to better understand their effects on the human immune system

A cohort study with a focus on the general population, occupations with specific exposures, and people with immune-mediated diseases

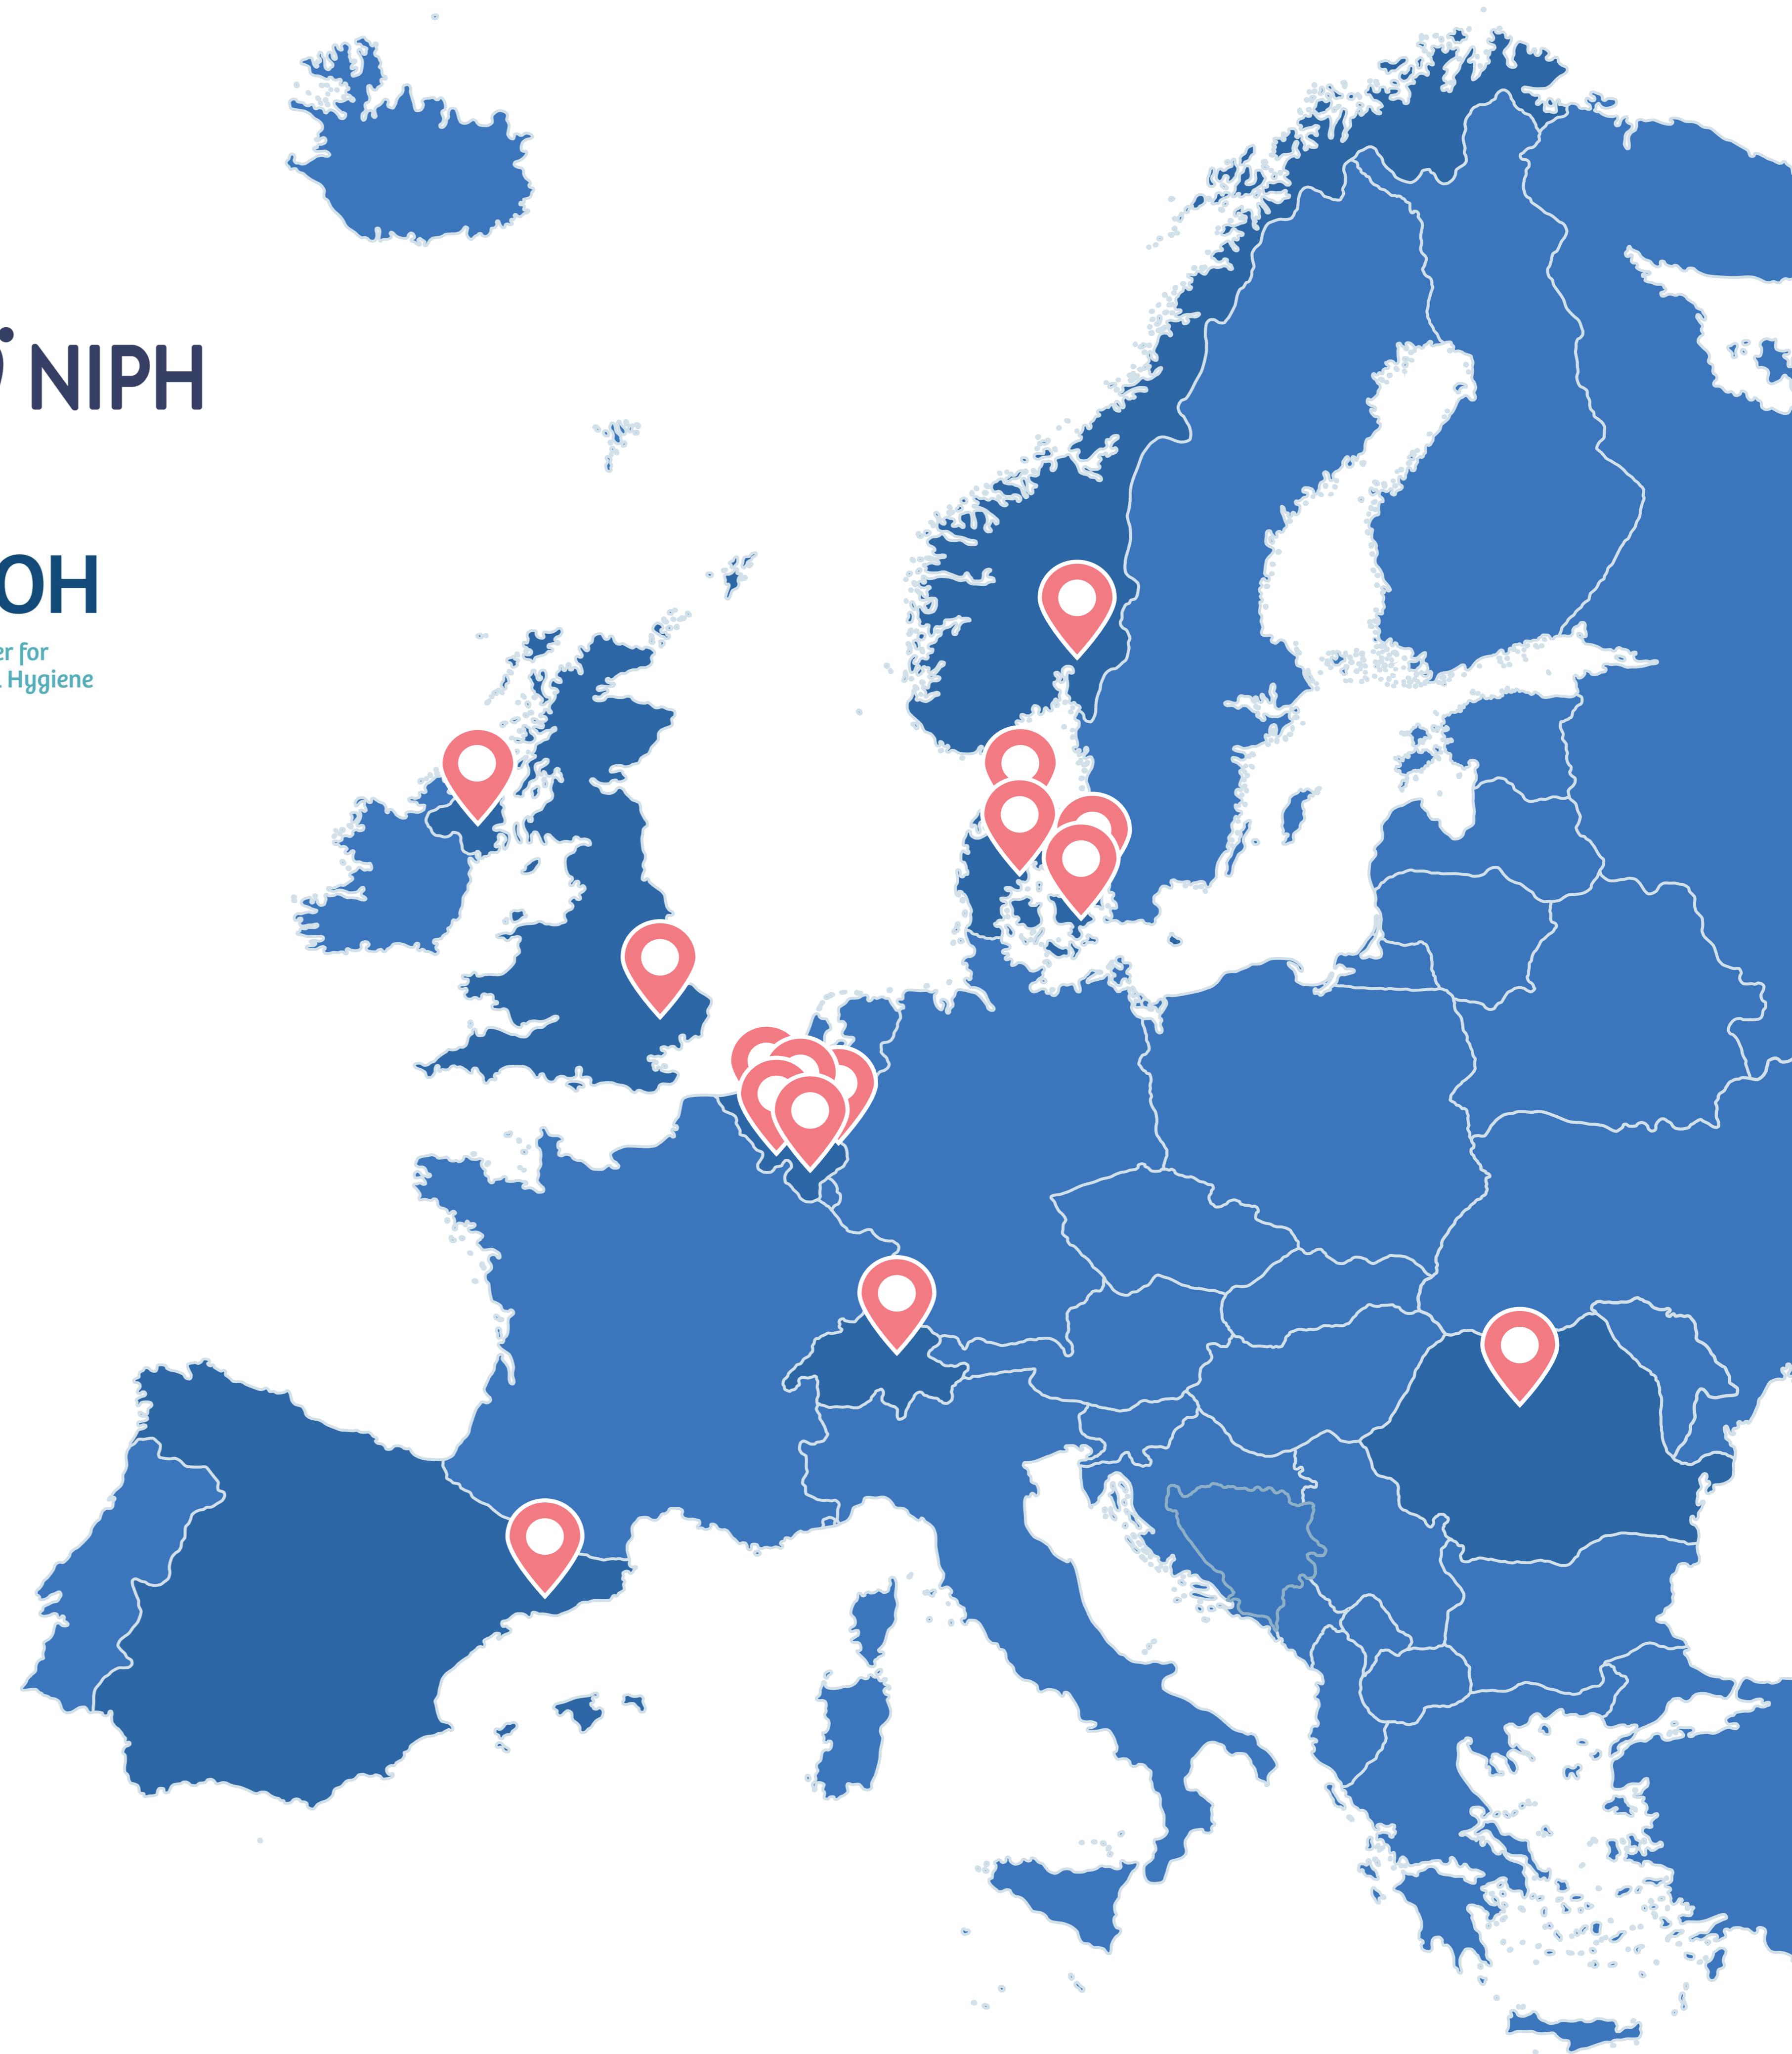

Bringing together 15 partners from 7 countries for Europe-wide collaboration

eximious-h2020.eu

EXIMIOUS_H2020

MEMBER OF THE

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 874707.